The Executive Retreats®

Strategic Programs for Business Rainmakers

For successful business owners seeking additional free time and balance in their firm, and in their lives.

Experience this Holistic, Results-Focused Program for Yourself!

The Executive Retreats program from SylvainDubois improves your focus, conversations and results. Through a proven group coaching + personal coaching format, SylvainDubois helps business owners and legal professionals sharpen their focus, increase their effectiveness and incomes, and balance their lives. Our clients gain clarity about the lifestyle they want and how their company can help them reach that dream. They put into motion the specific steps needed to get there. The experience is life altering. Effective use of discussions and case studies enable each participant to build a new vision of what is possible and master its creation. There are four components:

Quarterly Retreats Build Skills and Wisdom

The Executive Roundtable® and CEO Inner Circle® are periodic coaching and strategic-business and process-development programs anchored with quarterly retreats. Every 90 days your destination is a beautiful sanctuary, designed to dispel the anxiety and adrenaline-fueled chaos of the work world. Here, without distractions, you participate in a powerful, holistic, all-day seminar featuring case studies, small-group discussions and experiential learning. Each quarter builds both your skills and wisdom to transform what you do for a living into Great Work — since both are needed to create bold, effective, and meaningful action.

Each quarter you sharpen your 90-day strategic plan, and have time to reflect and learn how to transform your company or firm into a growth engine that will enhance your desired lifestyle. This personal retreat provides a “big picture” perspective of your business and in-depth review of your goals. The retreat will fundamentally change the way you see and operate — and your life!

The following day you have access to several deepening activities, from hiking to yoga, in the beautiful Rocky Mountains. You can include your family if you choose. Our staff is happy to assist you in setting up the perfect weekend to complement your experience. Return home refreshed and renewed.

Monthly Individual Sessions Reinforce Accountability

Our proven coaching process adds a rich layer to the retreat. The monthly coaching sessions, focused exclusively on you and implementation of your plan, are designed to turbo-charge your time, talents and resources. The individual coaching helps you stay accountable for your goals. It provides you with a grounded perspective to continually review, adjust, and elevate performance and results.

Together, you and your coach form an alliance designed to access your deeper truths and untested internal resources to obtain the things you want in your firm and eliminate the things you don't. The tools you gained during the retreat will be exercised to implement your strategic plan to increase your income, improve your process mastery and produce the extra time in your life to do all the other things you really love.

These sessions are delivered by phone, on-demand, during pre-arranged times. If you prefer to meet in person, that can be arranged. The bottom line is your confidence will increase and you will experience full support as you strategically create a greater firm able to do Great Work. The Executive Retreats program provides accountability so that more goals are actually accomplished. Concepts from the Retreats become firm practices: documented, in place, done.

Peer Groups Enhance Social and Professional Networking

During these strategic time-outs, the Executive Retreat program fosters roundtable discussions that promote understanding of business trends, discovery of new solutions, and networking with peers. This helps you to continue to grow your business while you collaborate and network with others going through the same strategic-focusing and transforming process. Participants build a peer group with whom to share victories and advice. This helps ensure that you do both the skill and wisdom building.

Unlimited Email Support Provides Continuity

You have access to unlimited email support because we want you to succeed. Your questions, comments, concerns and insights are answered within 24 hours. You benefit from a team working with you that will support, challenge, encourage and celebrate each achievement. You find that interactive support will round out, deepen and amplify your discoveries throughout your entire Executive Retreats experience.
